GRAPHIC STORY OF CANTON AIR RAID

"SYMPATHY ENTIRELY WITH CHINA"

London Papers Comment On Situation

London, August 31.

Newspapers here feature the newly arrived pictures of the wreckage by bombs in the Shanghai Chinese plane attacks on the Idzumo while reports of every aspect of the conflict overshadow all other news. Many indications sympathy are entirely on the Chinese side and admiration is expressed for the vigour of the Chinese resistance. It being generally opined that Japan is not getting her own way as she expected.

During the comparative lull, while the Japanese prepare for an attack on the Woosung area, inquiries by Reuters from official and business circles revealed the general belief that the time is still far off when it is possible to form a view as regards the ultimate outcome. It is commonly opined that if China can hold out in respect of munitions the results must be worse for Japan.

Evidence of Chinese national unity is particularly illustrated by the appointments of Pei Chung-hsi and Chang Fah-kwei and this has caused considerable impression.

SINO-SOVIET PACT

The significance of the Sino-Soviet Pact is considered chiefly moral though the existence of a private arrangement for the supply of arms to China it thought unlikely. The attitude of America is closely watched, and the "Morning Post," Washington correspondent dwells on the failure of the isolationists to get the Neutrality Act enforced, and traces the gradual advance by America towards co-operation with Britain and France in the interests of peace. He opines that "now, even if the Neutrality Act is applied it will be too late to change the general implications of the American policy, and America will continue to co-operate with other nations in the interests of peace in China and continue to insist on her rights in the Far East."

Well-informed quarters in London have no doubt that if America is willing to adopt a more positive action in applying pressure on Japan, the immediate co-operation of Britain and France goes without saying.

Of this, however, there is at present no sign. The weakness of Japan's finances and her dependence for essential raw materials from other nations is widely given attention by the "Manchester Guardian" which dwells on the anxiety of the Japanese newspapers for the fate of Japanese export trade even before the Shanghai explosion.—Reuters.

Aerodrome Attacked Japanese Planes

ENEMY PLANE BROUGHT DOWN AT BOCCA TIGRIS FORT

CITIZENS MAINTAIN ORDER DURING SKY BATTLE

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

CANTON, AUGUST 31.

I WAS AWAKENED AT 3.30 A.M. TO-DAY BY THE AIR RAID ALARM. I WENT OUTSIDE FIFTEEN MINUTES LATER, AND SAW SIX JAPANESE PLANES IN TWO GROUPS FLYING IN A SOUTH-EASTERLY DIRECTION FROM THE COAST. THEY WERE FOLLOWED IMMEDIATELY BY THE ROAR OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS, WHILE THE RATTLE OF MACHINE GUNS WAS ALSO CLEARLY AUDIBLE AT TUNGSHAN.

PEOPLE IN SHAMEN REPORTED HEARING GUN FIRE AND DISTINCTLY SAW SEVERAL PLANES.

SHORTLY AFTER THE JAPANESE PLANES WERE SIGHTED THREE CHINESE PLANES TOOK THE AIR AND I SAW ONE OF THEM MAKE A LOOP OVER A JAPANESE PLANE AND ENGAGE IT IN COMBAT.

WHILE THIS WAS GOING ON OTHER JAPANESE PLANES UNLOADED BOMBS ON THE AERODROME AT SHEK PAI. IT WAS RUMOURED THAT BOMBS WERE ALSO DROPPED AT THE SUN YAT SEN UNIVERSITY, BUT IT HAS NOT BEEN POSSIBLE TO CONFIRM THIS AS YET.

I visited the aerodrome personally to investigate the extent of the damage and ascertained that three persons were killed and three injured. No loss of life or injuries were reported elsewhere.

In an interview with a responsible official of the aerodrome it was gathered that the dead and injured at the aerodrome met their fate by rushing out of the hangars after starting the Chinese engines of the Japanese planes. The chief mechanic was among those killed.

Later, in an interview General Chang Wei Cheung told me that eight bombs had been dropped by the Japanese planes. General Chang, who was formerly Commander-in-Chief of the Canton Air Force, had gone to the aerodrome to encourage his former men. He saw the bombs drop. Some fell on fields and others struck trees, he said.

JAPANESE LAUNCHING OFFENSIVE WITHIN FEW DAYS

Shanghai, Aug. 31: The capture of Woosung Village as a result of to-day's operations is claimed by the Japanese who assert that further reinforcements have been successfully landed. A Japanese spokesman says the general offensive will be launched within a few days. While the battle in Woosung area raged Chinese artillery in the Chapel and Kiangwan sector opened up against the Japanese forces holding the Hongkew and Yangtsepoo line. The Japanese returned fire and a brisk duel proceeded. Pavements were torn up and buildings damaged within both lines.

Chinese despatches report that Chinese troops in the Woosung area are making good use of big swords during the night-time sorties.—Reuters.

Shanghai, Aug. 31: It has just been disclosed that the Italian steamer Lungshan going to Ningpo from Shanghai laden with Chinese refugees was attacked by an unidentified plane near the mouth of the Yangtze yesterday morning. One bomb dropped but did not hit the ship. The passengers were terrified.—Reuters.

GOVERNMENT'S REPLY TO PROFITTEERING

Question Of Legislation For Regulating Prices

URBAN COUNCIL MEETING

Stressing that "the Government is aware of a rise in the retail prices of certain articles of food in the Colony and has for some time been giving careful consideration to the question of legislation for regulating prices," Mr. E. R. Todd, Chairman of the Urban Council, addressed a meeting yesterday, on behalf of the Government, in answer to Dr. R. A. de Castro Baito who, pursuant to notice, asked the following questions:—

"As the price of foodstuff has a very important bearing on the Public Health of the Colony, will the Chairman kindly furnish answers to the following questions:—

"Is the Government aware of the increase in price of the various articles of food?

"Considering the circumstances of the case, is this increase justifiable?

"Is the Government aware that profiteering is going on to a certain extent?

"Will the Government take immediate steps to stop profiteering if extant, and take in anticipation any other necessary steps to prevent it?"

1925 CRISIS

"On the other hand," the Chairman continued, "it is to be realised that there are at present many more mouths in the Colony to feed, not only the British and other refugees from Shanghai but also very large numbers of Chinese from Canton, Swatow and elsewhere. There is also presumably a certain amount of private hoarding of foodstuffs both here and in Canton.

"Moreover, in the case of certain foodstuffs there is at the moment some shortage compared with normal times. Saltwater fish, for example, is influenced by the recent withdrawal of Japanese trawlers, coincident with a spell of bad weather during most of August. Again, eggs and certain vegetables normally coming from Shanghai and North China are at present naturally short.

Broadcast On World Affairs

"They out-English the English in their reverence for sentiment," was the way a German student once described the Japanese people, said Prof. M. Skeen Smith in his talk on "World Affairs" from Daventry last night. Prof. Smith chose for his subject "A Few Facts Based Upon My Knowledge of the Japanese People."

The speaker started his talk by saying that there were over 90 million people in Japan and to understand them one must make a careful study of them.

Speaking of industrial Japan, Prof. Smith said that the Sheno-kosho system of classes was a delicately balanced situation. They were divided into many grades and acted as the administrators of the country.

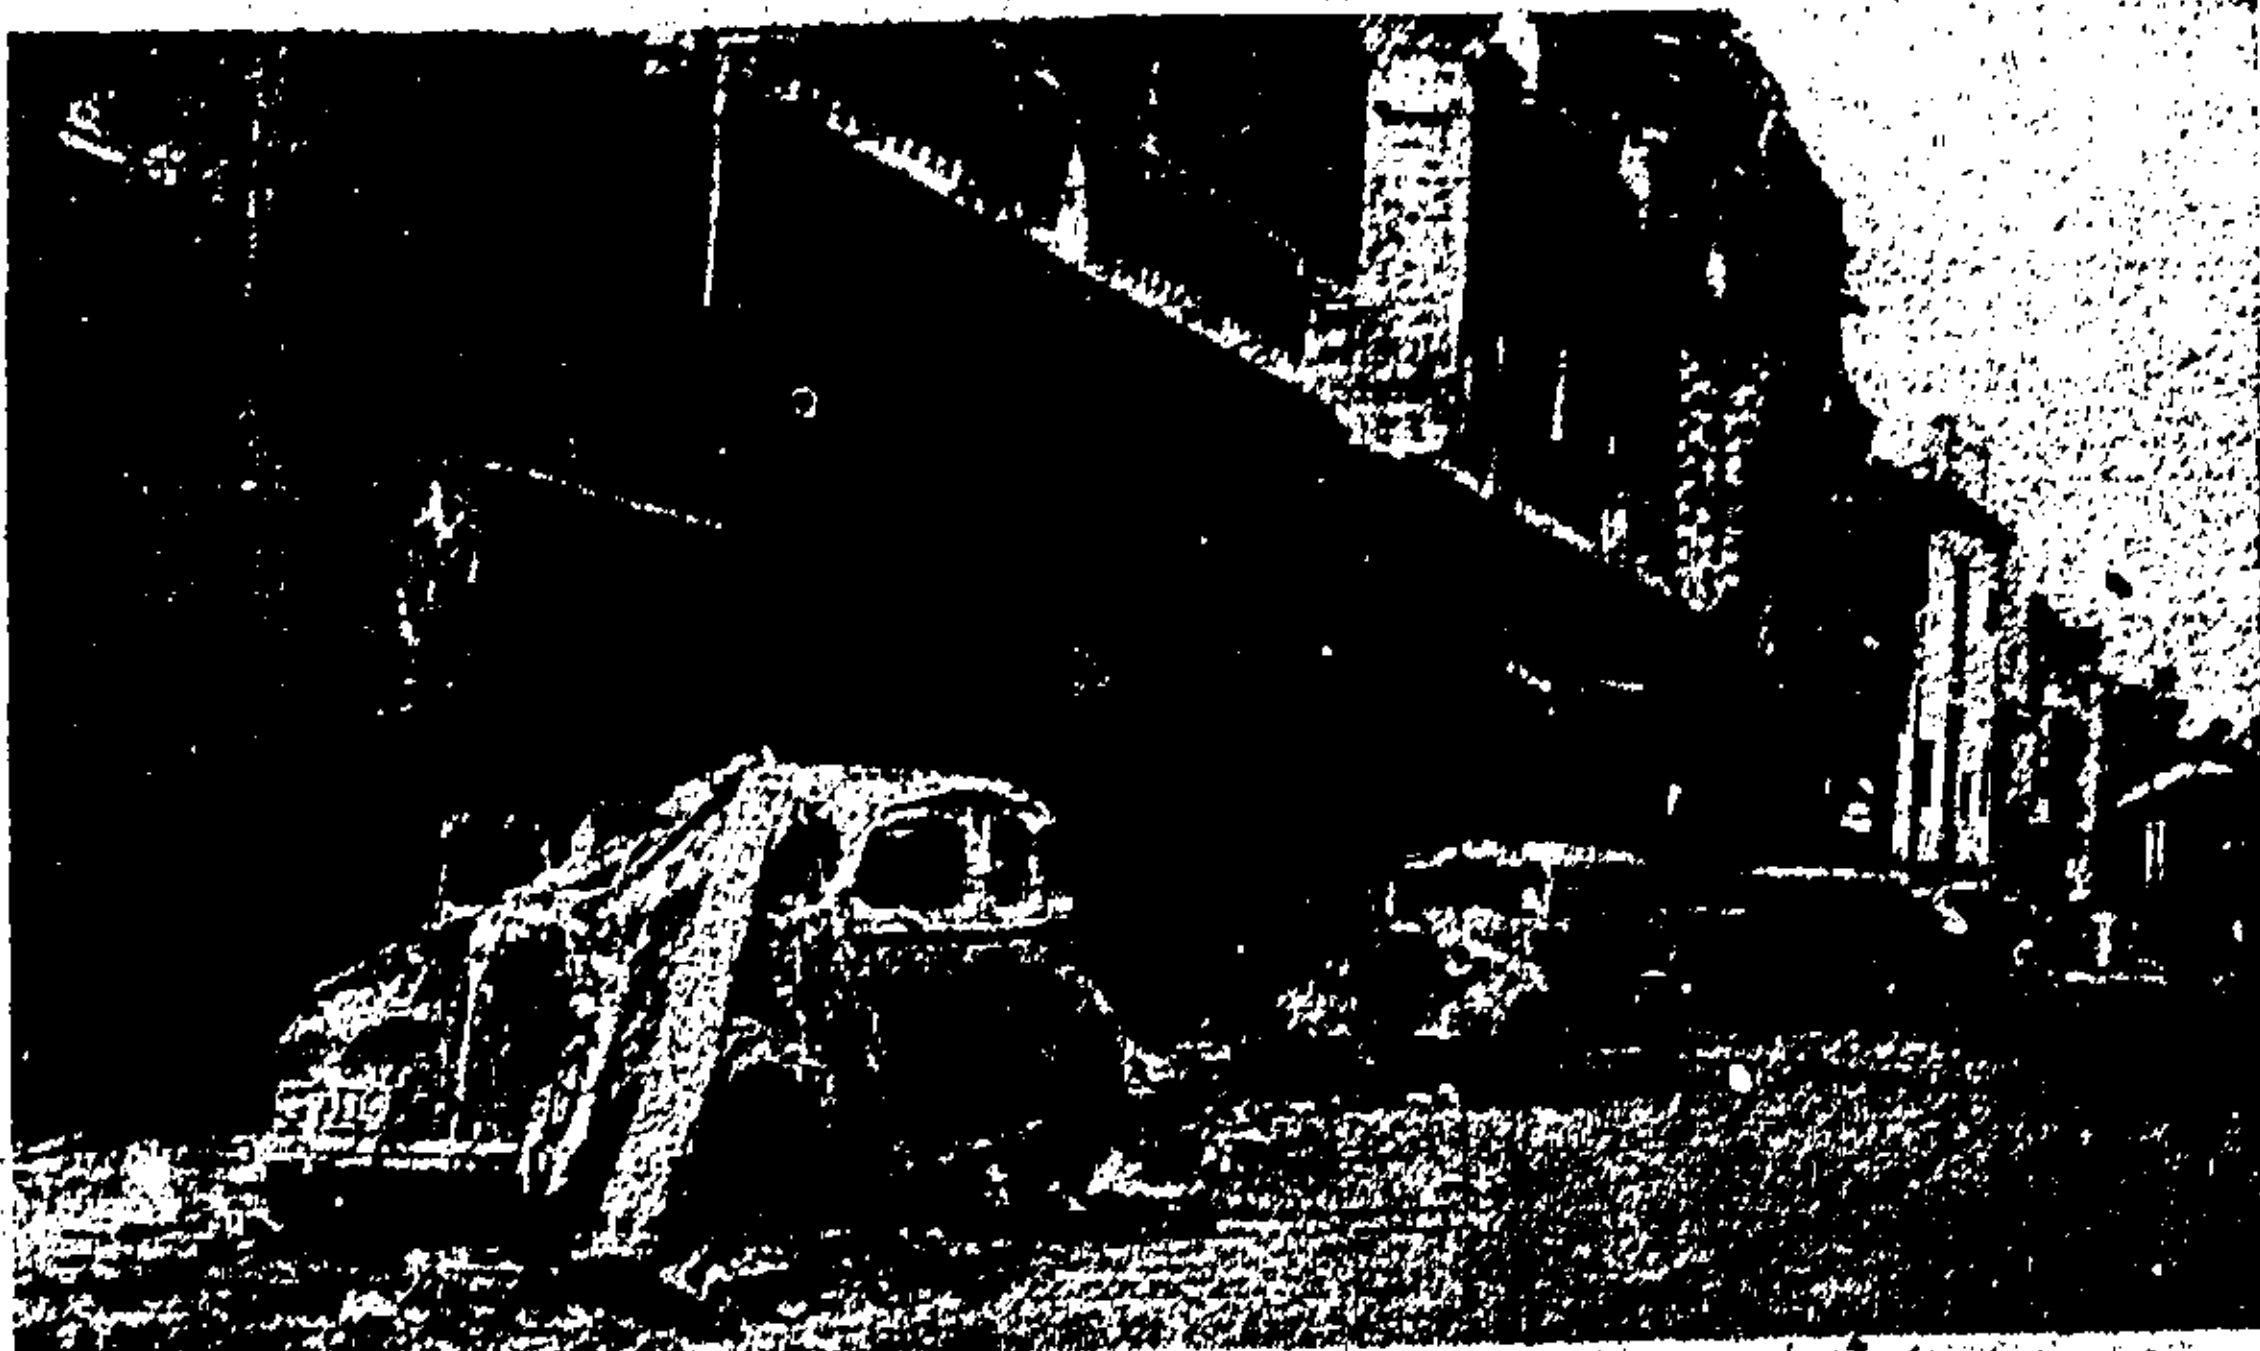

The farmers, said the speaker, represent some 80 per cent of the population and this section went in chiefly for vegetable farming and the rearing of silkworms. Then, said the speaker, there was plenty of wood to be had on the hills and this generous supply of timber was used for housing and fuel.

THE "SEE" CLASS

Dividing the four classes, the speaker said that the "See" or merchants, came first and at the top of this group were the Mitsui who to-day have expanded into perhaps the largest single business unit in the world. This Sho-No-Ko-Sho was more than class division in the European sense of the word though there was no official recognition of class division. Inside each class there were numerous and loyalty dated back to feudal times. Some of them still exist while the others have developed.

The speaker then dwelt on the different aspects of Japanese labour and said that this was very hard to understand. Most of the workers look upon themselves as family retainers and while this is all to the good most of the time, there are occasions when this can be just the opposite. Three-quarters of the capital in Japanese industry are supplied by family groups and these groups, combined with the forceful military elements, will form a cement wall against any foreign "invasion." In times of national emergency the family-group quarrels die down and the nation stands as one, but "what-ever our feelings," said the speaker, "we ought to study the Japanese."

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

DEATH SENTENCE AT SESSIONS

Prisoner Breaks Down After Being Calm

UNUSUAL KNIFE USED IN MURDER

Leung Kam, the murderer of Ip Wah, the young vegetable hawker, at Po Toi Island, on June 26 last, is to expire his crime on the gallows. After a trial lasting a day and a half, the jury yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty and his Lordship passed sentence of death.

Leung Kam received the jury's verdict in the same calm manner which he had displayed throughout the trial, but after the words of the judge "You will be taken hence to the place of execution you came and thereafter be hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may the Lord have mercy on your soul," were pronounced to him he almost broke down.

Just before the sentence was pronounced Leung Kam had again maintained his innocence. Asked if he had anything to say, he replied: "I am innocent."

In his evidence yesterday Leung Kam said he had gone to bed at 9 p.m. on the night of the murder. His wife and his two sons slept with him in the boat. After he had been asleep for some time he was awakened by a man named Tai Ung Chai, and asked whether he had killed anybody. Tai said it had been alleged that he (Leung) had killed someone. Leung replied that he had not killed anybody. Later Leung, Wah Sing shouted to him. He said, "Ah Kam, have you killed anybody?" Witness said he again answered in the negative. Later he went to the police station and made a report.

Cross-examining Mr. Whyatt asked Leung Kam: Can you suggest any reason why Ip Ping Chee should make these false accusations against you?

Leung Kam replied: I do not know why he should do so. Mr. Whyatt: You have known each other for five or six years?—Yes. And you had been on friendly terms?—Yes.

Evidence was given by Leung Kam's wife and his son. Both said they had slept in the boat with their father on the night of the murder. They went to bed about 9 p.m. and did not wake until the next morning. They had not seen their father leave the boat after they had gone to bed. If he had left the boat they were sure to have seen him.

In his address to the jury Mr. D. J. N. Anderson, for the defence, urged that if there was the slightest doubt in their minds as to the identity of the murderer they must give the benefit of that doubt to the accused.

During a lengthy summing up his Lordship said there was no reason, on the evidence, to believe that this was a case of mistaken identity. Indeed, even the accused did not suggest it was a case of mistaken identity. His story was that it was a conspiracy to do him a wrong.

Finally, his Lordship, on behalf of the accused, drew attention to the fact that the crime had been committed with an unusual sort of knife—one with a triangular shaped blade and it had to be borne in mind that no one had come forward to say that the accused ever possessed such a knife. That, his Lordship, said, was an unusual feature of the case.

After retiring for about a quarter of an hour the jury returned with a unanimous verdict of guilty and sentence of death was passed.

Aircraftman Found Hanging

KOWLOON INQUEST

The circumstances surrounding the death of Second Class Aircraftman Bernard George Chisholm-Ellams, R.A.F., formed the subject of an inquest held at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon. Mr. K. M. A. Barnett sat as Coroner assisted by a jury comprising Messrs. B. C. Randall (foreman), W. L. Ramsey, Wong Yin-min.

Inspector F. T. J. Portallion and Detective-Sergeant MacPherson represented the Police.

The body of the deceased was first discovered by Corporals J. B. Lister and Owen, hanging in the drying room on the night of July 30.

In evidence, Corporal Lister said that he was talking to Owen outside the Guardroom about 11.15 p.m. After having conversed for several minutes they returned to their Barracks. When going past the drying room Lister said that Owen shouted and his expression suddenly changed. Owen then informed him that someone was hanging inside the room. On entering witness stated that he saw a body hanging by a rope attached to the roof which was about seven feet from the floor. He took the body down and attempted to revive it by artificial respiration, but it was fruitless. Meanwhile the doctor arrived and on examination pronounced life extinct.

Dr. G. H. Henry, medical officer in charge of the Kowloon Public Mortuary, stated that the cause of death was asphyxiation due to hanging.

Flight Lieut. J. R. Jenkins, medical officer of the Royal Air Force Station at Kai Tak, gave formal evidence.

The hearing was adjourned till 2.15 p.m., to-day.

In the meantime the Coroner and jury will proceed to the R.A.F. Station to inspect the scene.

ADDITIONAL CHARGE

R.O. MAJOR ACCUSED

Committed For Trial On One Count

The hearing of the case in which Revenue Officer Henry Richard Major was charged with having accepted a bribe of $200 from Li Yee on board the s.s. Wo Ping Yee on June 23 with a view to inclining him, contrary to his duties, to seize, remove or detain unlawfully wolfram ore, was concluded before Mr. Schofield yesterday at the Central Magistracy.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, conducted the case for the Crown while Mr. D. B. Evans represented the defendant.

His Worship committed the defendant to stand trial at the next Criminal Sessions. Mr. D. B. Evans, appearing for Major, reserved his defence.

Hearing of an additional charge of accepting a bribe of $40 from Ho Yee on board the s.s. Fatsan on June 10 was then commenced.

Mr. Abbott said that on the morning in question the defendant and Chinese R. O. 110 boarded the s.s. Fatsan which was lying alongside the Canton Wharf. C. R. O. 110 went to the stern of the boat and near a fruit stall, he found two rattan baskets, which he examined and found to be very heavy. He then inquired of the owners and two men, Ah Yue alias Kwan Yue and Ah Wing alias Wing Kai claimed the baskets.

When the defendant came on the scene the baskets were opened. On seeing that they contained wolfram the defendant immediately said, "500 baht." When the defendant left the stall-keeper Lee Kai thought that the defendant meant him to give $50 and he and his foki had a conversation. It was agreed to give the defendant $30 as "tea money" but defendant declined their offer and ordered C. R. O. 110 to get the comprador, but he was called back when the claimants had another conversation and they agreed to give $40 to which the defendant agreed. They borrowed the money from Lee Kai and the wolfram was re-

CANADA AND HER TRADE

Maj. V.E. Duclos Talks At Rotary Club

INTERESTING DETAILS

A talk on Canada and her trade with the rest of the world was given by Major V. E. Duclos, the Canadian Trade Commissioner, at the weekly Rotary tiffin meeting yesterday at the roof garden of the Hong Kong Hotel before a good gathering of local Rotarians and a number of visitant Rotarians who were introduced by the President, Major R. D. Walker.

The visitors were: Mr. George McCarthy, of Shanghai, Mr. G. G. Broadford, of Shanghai, Mr. Yinson Lee, of Shanghai, Mr. E. Mathewson, of Tucson, Arizona, Mr. H. Ciner, of Shanghai, Mr. F. C. Millington, of Shanghai, Mr. W. J. Fraser of Vancouver, B.C., and Mr. Choo Kia Peng, of Kuala Lumpur, F.M.S.

Mr. Choo Kia Peng said he had arrived in Hong Kong four days previously on his way back home after representing Malaya at the Coronation of King George the Sixth. He had gone to England via the Suez Canal and had returned via America. While in Europe Mr. Kia Peng attended an assembly of incoming and outgoing governors of Rotary, at Montreaux. From there he travelled to Nice where he attended another Rotary meeting at which over 8,000 were present. In view of the times they were now going through Mr. Choo Kia Peng said he would not make any remarks beyond stating that he was very glad to be among them that day and to thank them for their hospitality.

The Chairman then introduced Major Duclos who addressed the meeting on Canadian trade.

Major Duclos said that Canada's national wealth is estimated at over 30 billions of dollars. She has a population of slightly more than 10 millions, of which 52 per cent. are British, 28 per cent. French Canadian, and 20 per cent. foreign, and she has developed from a "tower of wood and tiller of soil" to a great manufacturing nation. The principal reasons for this are her natural resources and water power which develops hydro-electric energy, to which the much used word "white coal" is applied. "While I believe that the back-bone of Canada's prosperity will always be agriculture, the value of production of which is estimated at over $1,000,000,000, and which is the basis of 40 per cent. of Canada's export trade, tremendous strides have taken place in the development of her mining, forestry and fishery resources.

TOTAL TRADE

"The total trade of Canada during the calendar year 1936 amounted to Canadian $1,650,000,000. Imports amounted to $635,000,000 while exports were valued at $1,015,000,000. Total trade with British Empire countries amounted to $874,000,000, representing 47.7 per cent. of Canadian exports and 29.8 per cent. of imports.

"The principal products exported are: Wheat, newspaper, timber, gold, nickel, woodpulp, fish, meats, automobiles, copper, bars, wheat flour, whiskey, raw furs, silver, aluminium, apples, zinc and lead. "The principal commodities exported to Hong Kong from Canada are flour, newspaper, timber, automobiles, fertilizer, lead, zinc and spelter."

ANOTHER REMAND GRANTED

A further remand of a week was granted by Mr. S. F. Balfour yesterday in the case in which Sui Mun, Sui Tun and Sui Cheung, who were alleged to have assaulted Ip Ping-cheung on August 27, at Lower Macao Row.

Sub-Inspector Whant, who is conducting the case for the Crown, said that Ip Ping-cheung was progressing favourably in hospital but will not be discharged as yet as he complains that he is suffering from pains in the chest. The question of bail was discussed and was fixed at $25.

Leung Choi, C.R.O. 110, gave evidence, after which the hearing was adjourned to September 2.

Centenary Of Buckingham Palace

One hundred years ago Queen Victoria, three weeks after she became Queen, drove from Kensington Palace to her new "Palace of Pimlico".

A few weeks later the "Palace of Pimlico" became Buckingham Palace.

Buckingham Palace has had a romantic history. It owes its existence to George IV., for, on finding the Royal residences of his time too small and inconvenient, he conceived the plan of creating a home fitting to the dignity of a British sovereign.

Several sites were nominated,
among them Regent's Park, Hyde Park, Green Park and Kensington, but George IV. declared that the most suitable was Buckingham House and its grounds, then a mulberry tree garden. The garden was founded by James I., who hoped to create a flourishing silk industry. His scheme was a failure, and the house with its grounds passed into other hands.

Lord Goring leased it, and gave it the name of "Goring House," while in 1672 the Earl of Arlington secured it from the Crown on a 99 years' lease. The house was destroyed by fire, and "Arlington House" was built. This became the property of the Earl of Grafton, and eventually passed to the Earl of Macclesfield, afterwards Duke of Buckingham, who added wings, which exist to a large extent today.

George III. and Queen Charlotte lived at Buckingham House, forming the nucleus of the art pieces which Queen Mary has done so much to preserve.

When the property came to George IV., alterations and improvements were begun and the King was frequently in collision with his Exchequer over funds.
At the time of his death £650,000 had been spent, and during the reign of William IV. another £100,000 became necessary. He died before the work on the house was completed, and so Queen Victoria became the first Sovereign to live at the Palace in its new phase as a State residence.

THE LADY ESCAPES

At his first acquaintance with the "honoured French sport of savate," Michael Whalen was inclined to comment "So What?" with which the French word rhymes, but George Sanders, who savates with the husky Irishman in "The Lady Escapes," Twentieth Century-Fox picture which has its run at the Queen's Theatre to-day, soon taught him respect for this Galic version of American pugilism.

"The Lady Escapes," which features Whalen and Gloria Stuart in the leading romantic roles, is a matrimonial comedy featuring a scene where Whalen, as an American husband, fights a duel with his wife's French admirer. Sanders, in that role, chooses the art of savate to settle the duel, which he does to Whalen's embarrassment.

THE FIGHTING RANGER

A modern version of Daniel in the lion's den is enacted for the motion pictures in the Columbia film, "The Fighting Ranger," which has its run at the Alhambra Theatre to-day.
In the role of the fearless hero is the intrepid Buck Jones, the star of many spectacular outdoor pictures. He is cast as a Ranger who goes out to hunt the murderer of his brother and avenge the crime. He discovers the hangout of the "Cougar," the bandit who is responsible for his brother's death, and gains his confidence by pretending that he too is an outlaw, with a price on his head.
As is usual in a Buck Jones film, there are numerous fast-moving episodes, with Buck providing a major share of the thrills. He gives a gripping, virile performance featured by his splendid riding and hard-fighting.

ACCUSED

One of the most thrilling courtroom scenes in screen history is "Accused," the Critter on murder mystery starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Dolores Del Rio at the King's Theatre to-day.
The story, one of backstage life in a Paris theatre, casts the stars as a sensational dance team who are desperately in love offstage.
The scene shows Dolores on trial for the murder of the leading lady of the company, played by Florence Desmond, of whom she had been intensely jealous.
"Accused" was directed by Thornton Freeland from a screen play by Zoe Akins and George Barraud.

DUCK SOUP

Madder, nuttier, more colossal than ever, the Four Marx Brothers swooped down on "Blanktown"—yesterday—and sent home in hysterics the customers who jammed the Majestic Theatre.

This latest outburst of hilarious comedy is entitled "Duck Soup." As is customary with Marxian pictures, the title has nothing whatever to do with the film, but it is indicative of the content. Insanity is "duck soup" for the mad Marxmen, and their present opus is by far the best they ever have produced.

Fred's Great Dane Comedian

In RKO Radio's "Shall We Dance," Fred Astaire had a pet almost as big as he is in Bon, a trained Great Dane, which performed a comedy bit with him. Fred and Bon have become fast friends as a result of that association.
The film is due for showing about the middle of September.

HOLLYWOOD SUMMER SOCIAL ACTIVITY

And now it's summer, the time of the year when stars come out to bask in the sun—the season when Hollywood turns to itself for social activities. Days when summer was the signal for a general migration from the film city are past. Now, it's just the opposite.

In winter, screen favourites hie to Palm Springs, to Arrowhead, to Sun Valley. But as soon as Old Sol decides to stop playing around and bring summer in with a vengeance, actors and actresses seat themselves in their respective homes, send out invitations via telephone and proceed to enjoy themselves in their natural surroundings.

Probably, the pioneer in this summer "back yard" festivity movement is Joan Crawford, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star. Every Sunday, during the summer months, Miss Crawford and husband Franchot Tone hold open house from noon until midnight. Guests drop in early, and amuse themselves by taking dips in the pool, playing tennis, badminton or ping pong. When the day begins to cool, buffet supper is served from the large patio porch.

SATURDAY BARBECUES

The evening includes a programme of current pictures shown in the little theatre at the rear of the house.
Una Merkel's Saturday night barbecues are as inevitable to summer as a sun-tan. It was several years ago that Una completed her long-planned barbecue pit and out-of-door dining room, and since that time Hollywood has made a red-letter event out of its Saturday evenings.

Informality, of course, rules. Guests may appear in anything from slacks to sports dresses and feel perfectly at home. Dinner is served on long rustic tables stretching unbelievable lengths under a pergola. The service, including plates, knives and forks, are wooden.

After dinner, guests are invited to amuse themselves with any one of more than three hundred games, in addition to night tennis and badminton on lighted courts.

Joining this year's band of summer stay-at-homes is Robert Taylor, who has already planned some interesting entertainment for guests at his recently-purchased ranch in the valley.

Bob also prefers the barbecue type of dinner, and after the meal his guests are invited to take moonlight horseback rides along nearby mountain trails.

Sunday is guest day for Elissa Landi. The actress issues her invitation for six o'clock Sunday morning. All of the guests meet at her home where horses are provided. A ride along the bridge trails follows, and, after approximately two hours, the party arrives at some wooded, out-of-the-way spot where tables are spread and bacon and eggs are soon sizzling.
Following breakfast, the guests are invited back to the Landi home where the remainder of the day is spent in out-of-door sports, or, for those who enjoy music, rare programme of symphonic recordings.

STAY AT HOME

Cecilia Parker, who leads Hollywood's younger set, has already started a "stay at home this summer" movement by spending her vacation money on a red-and-white trailer, to match her red-and-white car.

In this she gives trailer parties. The youngsters get together early in the evening and travel to the beach where arrangements have been made for a party. Both radio and gramophone may be found in the trailer; also, an extra platform that folds and tucks away, proves ideal as a small but efficient dance floor.

The beach, this summer, is proving a rendezvous for Maureen O'Sullivan and husband John Villiers Farrow. The couple have taken a large house at Malibu, where they entertain week-ends.

The most unusual party of this season has already been staged by Allan Jones, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer singer.

Jones and wife Irene Hervey issued invitations to a "dock party," and instructed guests to wear old clothes.

When the hour arrived, the guests appeared at the spot where the Jones' yacht was in dry dock. A buffet meal was served, after which everyone went to work sanding and painting the boat, preparing it for its first trip of the season.

Boat trips to Catalina is a manner of entertaining favoured by this popular Hollywood couple.

Clark Gable is one of the few who enjoys an occasional jaunt outside of Hollywood for summer. Hunting trips to the Santa Cruz Islands, where wild boar are plentiful, is a short, but enjoyable diversion.

Among popular local places is the Hollywood Bowl where, during the season, numerous stars, among them Nelson Eddy, Edna May Oliver, May Robson and Jeanette MacDonald, reserve boxes and entertain nightly with symphony parties. Following this there ensues a raid on respective refrigerators that have been well stocked with provisions.

Amusement piers at the various beaches continue to intrigue Hollywood's very young.

Fredrick Bartholomew, Judy Garland, Betty Jaynes, Mickey Rooney and John Arlington "do" the various and sundry roller-coasters and fun houses every Saturday night and return to their homes loaded with loot in the form of plaster-of-Paris dolls, animals, fish and fowl.

Generalissimo States China's Stand

Shanghai, Aug. 31.
"The question upon what terms China will agree to terminate hostilities can only be answered when Japan decides to withdraw from the impossible position in which she finds herself vis-a-vis China and the world."

So declared General Chiang Kai-shek in an exclusive interview with Reuter yesterday.

The Generalissimo urged the necessity of international intervention in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war, not only for China's sake but for the sake of world peace.

He said the simple truth was that Japan took action with the object of establishing a continental empire.

General Chiang added that unquestionably a distinct responsibility rested on the shoulders of someone to take steps to prevent the utter ruin of China, and to secure possibilities of conducting legitimate trade.

Madame Chiang, who is working 18 hours a day, translated for her husband in the interview.

UNIFYING OF CHINA

The Generalissimo stated that several things had resulted from the present conflict, the most important being the unifying and rallying of the Chinese people to defend themselves against a ruthless foe who had disregarded all canons of international law and all sense of human decency.

There was also evident the acceptance by the Powers of the displacement of international law and the substitution of a system of "incident making," which the Japanese will probably endeavour to use as justification for the attempted annexation of additional sections of Chinese territory.

JAPAN'S DESIGNS

Additional results were the revelation of the systematic intention of Japan to devastate the important seaports of China and proof that China, although considerably weaker than Japan, refuses to continue to submit to the treatment that Japan is accustomed to accord her.

The Generalissimo said that Japan is steadily wiping out her own investments in China and her own commercial opportunities, where wise statesmanlike and courteous treatment of the Chinese people would unquestionably give her a virtual monopoly of the country's trade.

INADEQUATE EQUIPMENT

China, with inadequate equipment, was fighting not only her own battle but the battle of all nations who base their lives on the sanctity and validity of treaties, and China was particularly carrying the burden for those nations whose large commercial interests in China are being systematically destroyed.

It is not difficult to prophesy, said the Generalissimo, what will happen to the trade of foreign nations if Japan secures domination of China.

The Generalissimo concluded by saying that the question of intervention rested with the Powers who created the Nine-Power Treaty and the Kellogg Pact and who organised the League of Nations.—

Paris, Aug. 30.

CHINA HANDS NOTE TO LEAGUE

Geneva, Aug. 30.
A lengthy Note from the Chinese Government to the League of Nations, in which the attention of the League as well as that of the United States is called to the Sino-Japanese conflict, was handed in to-day by the Chinese representative to the League, Dr. Wellington Koo.

Following a detailed account of all the incidents that have transpired since the end of July, it is declared in the Note that China has done all that is in her power to bring about a peaceful settlement of the differences but that Japan has violated her obligations arising from the League Covenant and Kellogg Pact, as well as the Nine Power Treaty.

A Note was handed in to the United States in its capacity as a member of the 1933 Committee formed in connection with the League to deal with the difficulties arising in the Far East.—

CHINA REGRETS

Hoover Incident Deplored

Nanking, August 31.
Negotiations have already started between the Chinese and American authorities in Nanking for an early settlement of the accidental bombing of the s.s. Pres. Hoover by Chinese planes. Meanwhile Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese Ambassador at Washington, has been instructed to express regret to the State Department and also to assure the American authorities of China's readiness to make a full redress for the "deplorable incident."

The Chinese authorities assert that at the time of the bombing the President Hoover was between two Japanese warships which added to the conviction of the Chinese airmen that she was a Japanese transport. The Chinese spokesman emphasises that the Chinese air force never deliberately attacked foreign ships.—
Reuter.

CHINA—U.S. INVESTIGATING HOOVER BOMBING

Nanking, Aug. 31: An investigation into the accidental bombing of the President Hoover by Chinese planes off Woosung yesterday afternoon is now being conducted between representatives of the Foreign Office and the United States Embassy here, it was announced this morning.

The Chinese Government has also sent a telegram to Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese Ambassador at Washington, requesting him to inform the United States Government that China will assume full responsibility of the bombing of the vessel.

A statement issued by a spokesman of the Foreign Office expresses regret over the incident and declares that China will assume fully responsibility of the bombing.

Chinese planes, the statement continues, have no desire to deliberately bomb vessels of another friendly Power.

According to intelligence reports received by the Chinese Air Force Headquarters here, several Japanese military transports were arriving in Shanghai yesterday. The President Hoover, coming from the South, reached Woosung about the same time the Japanese transports were scheduled to arrive.

It is also reported that the Hoover was travelling through an area in which two other Japanese warships were moving. The Chinese planes mistook the President Hoover for a Japanese transport which resulted in the accidental bombing.—

NAVY TO EVACUATE AMERICANS

Washington, Aug. 30.
Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, has now issued a statement indicating that Admiral Harry Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic Fleet, has relieved the Dollar Line of the necessity of calling at Shanghai for the time-being.

The Navy has sufficient vessels in Chinese waters to evacuate the remaining two or three hundred Americans desiring to leave Shanghai, it is stated.

Admiral Yarnell's action, however, applies only to Shanghai and to no other ports in China where evacuation is desired. Mr. Hull added that Admiral Yarnell had ordered the President Hoover, which has been under orders of the Navy since the decision to evacuate Shanghai residents, to proceed to Kobe.—

AIR RAID ON CANTON

Two Japanese Planes Shot Down

Canton, Aug. 31.
An official report of this morning's air raid states that six machines were sighted off the coast at 5 a.m. The alarm at Canton was sounded at 5:40 a.m. and the planes were sighted five minutes later over Tungshan. Anti-aircraft guns roared at 6:05 a.m. and Chinese planes hopped off and engaged the attackers who eventually flew off having dropped bombs on the military aerodrome. No damage was done but three of the ground staff were killed and three wounded.

On the return flight the Japanese planes engaged the Chinese machines near the Bocca Tigris and the Chinese claim that one Japanese machine was brought down by machine-gun fire while another was shot down by anti-aircraft guns.

The Japanese planes did not reach Canton, being intercepted at Waichow by Chinese machines and turned back. Meanwhile a solitary Japanese bomber was also observed over Sheklung but dropped no bomb. It was evidently reconnoitring. The wreckage of the Japanese plane shot down in this morning's raid was discovered at Lienhuashan in the vicinity of the Bocca Tigris with three dead bodies of the occupants strewn in grotesque attitudes nearby.—

SEIZED WITH PANIC

Canton, Aug. 31.
Japanese bombing planes raided Canton this morning.
The city was awakened at 6:05 a.m. to the sound of gunfire and the clanging of alarm bells and the Chinese populace was seized with panic. It was reported that Japanese planes were attacking a near-by military aerodrome.

The gates of Shamen were closed as a precautionary measure and the Volunteer Defence Corps was mobilised to deal with a possible rush of crowds from outside the little foreign settlement.

A foreign resident in Shamen states that he saw six planes flying at a great height with anti-aircraft shells bursting all around them. Later the machines broke up into two groups of three each and disappeared from sight.

Reliable Chinese sources telephoned to Reuter from Tungshan stating that Chinese planes had taken off and engaged the raiders and the splutter of their machine-guns was clearly audible over the drone of engines as they circled and dived overhead.

From sources connected with the Chinese air force it is learned that seven Japanese bombers appeared shortly after dawn and dropped two bombs near the gun emplacements at Sha-hoh, close to the military aerodrome there. The damage is at present unknown.

The raiders then made off. Chinese planes are at present watchfully circling the city, and the "All Clear" signal has been

Second Anniversary Of Daily,
Monthly And Yearly Contests

In view of the result of the first anniversary photographic contest and exhibition, we are obliged that we have received a very good criticism, but we regret that in accordance with the area of the location, we can only exhibit a portion of the photographs.

As our aim in organizing this photographic competition and exhibition is to promote the art of photography, and we are endeavouring by means of perseverance to continue our services to give amateurs interest in this display. We desire to choose photographs with great care so as to lessen the numbers of simple selections, and by doing this, those pictures, which possess real arts, may have a better chance to be exhibited; and, on the other hand, it stimulates the people to struggle for their improvements as it is of no easy matter to obtain the perfect art in photography.

THE DAILY CONTEST

One negative will be selected from the films (disregarding sizes or amounts) handed to us for developing, and the prize of an 8" x 10" enlargement of the selection will be given, and if there are more than one better photos to be chosen in the same day they are all prepared for the supplements of the following days.

THE MONTHLY CONTEST

At the end of the month all pictures selected daily will be assembled, and equal prizes will be awarded to these three best ones chosen from them.

THE YEARLY CONTEST

At the end of the fiscal year an exhibition of all the best photographs chosen daily and monthly will be held, in which special prizes will be awarded to those distinguished in the yearly assemblage.

The Studio reserves the right to print for preservation and/or exhibition in windows of any pictures entered for contest. If those are not desired to be entered for contest, clients are requested to let us know when films are brought in for developing.

The second photographic contest is continued on 1st. September, 1937.

(The decision of the Studio is final).

COTTON LOAN

Bearish Expectations Confirmed

London, August 31.

Details of the Cotton Loan are largely as foreshadowed but they confirm the bearish expectations. Some had hoped nine for a cent basis low middling which would be equivalent to 10½ middling. At present it is expected most of the cotton will be for the open market with little being impounded in loan. Brokers generally expect the market to ease to loan level but the best informed circles point out it may prove a glib over the assumption because the first world commodity price level has risen at least ten per cent since similar 1935 loan arrangements. Secondly, world allocation of consumption last season showed 3,200,000 bales increase; Thirdly, America is already fully competitive with India; Fourthly, textile merchants are likely to accumulate cotton in anticipation of a reduced crop next season.

友之國中

[Hong Kong, September 1, 1937.]

BOMBING OF CANTON

It was not unexpected that the Japanese doves of peace would fly over Canton scattering their symbols of good-will upon a huge population in a centre which is of no military importance to the present issue. They came; they were spotted, and then a flight of Chinese air force planes took to the air and gave the Japanese raiders what they deserved but much more than they expected.

We say Canton was prepared for this raid because, as General Wu Te-chen stated, "When China accepted Japan's challenge we knew that the Japanese would stop at nothing." The marvel to us is that they stopped at Canton. But the raiders were either brought down or chased away, and the vast civilian population of hard-working folk heard with delight the "All clear" signal and went about their multifarious tasks as usual. Had a few thousands of these militarily unimportant citizens of Canton been shattered to death the Japanese raid would doubtless have been hailed by the Japanese as a great and glorious victory.

The horror, futility and ghastliness of it all! Yet the West also knows what war-mad nations can do, and possibly the world generally will not be shocked at this bombing of a famous commercial centre with a preponderance of civilians over soldiery of ten to one.

To us that raid of yesterday has a great significance. It so happened that whilst the second raid was taking place we received a communication from a source which it would be a gross breach of confidence to divulge, who witnessed the Japanese raids on Nanking on August 22. Here are the words in that communication: "I have just returned from watching a full moon raid on Nanking. Six heavy bombers, accompanied by a string of pursuit planes, came over the city but they were flying some 12,000 or 15,000 feet high. They have a wholesome respect for Chinese planes, but that respect destroys their aim. Though they dropped several bombs they did no military damage and not much of any other kind of damage. Even on their first raid they did no material damage."

These words, from an eye-witness who knows what he is talking about, are significant in view of the happenings in the air over Canton yesterday. The moment the Chinese took to the air the Japanese "beat it."

Further comments are made in this communication which should give us great heart. Thus: "The amazing thing is the disaster that happened to Japan's air arm within the first three days. She lost 32 heavy bombers carrying crews of six each, though one that came down near here had eight aboard. Just near my place I saw four come down, all within three minutes of each other and go up in flame." Perhaps the Japanese are not so "hot" after all?

Japan has made one great mistake. She thought that the Chinese would not and could not fight.

Canton has given answer in no uncertain manner.

HONG KONG'S

REFUGEE PROBLEM

When we commented on the incidence of profiteering which is being allowed to thrive in Hong Kong we drew attention to the fact that there were already a very considerable number of refugees from Shanghai and various parts of China in our midst, and we gave as our opinion that the numbers would increase greatly. We made that speculation about a week ago. With the bombing of Canton and the further evacuation of Shanghai it is patent that the refugee problem has already reached alarming proportions, and what the Government of Hong Kong proposes to do in the way of placing reasonable and absolutely essential restrictions on this mighty and unprecedented influx of rather panic-stricken humanity into the Colony is something concerning which the Administration should take the resident public into its confidence so that a proper basis for co-operative effort may be established.

We all are desirous of doing everything humanly possible to help the refugees, but there must be a limit to what can be done. We are of the opinion that such a limit has almost been reached. We will not charge the Government with being disinterested, but we definitely state that as a body entrusted with the administration of the Colony, it is certainly aloof as far as contact with the public is concerned. It is not, of course, our desire to create panic nor to promote discontent, but we deem it our duty to inform the public of the true state of affairs and what is being done and will be done to solve the many pressing present problems, then there is every likelihood of serious trouble breaking out in Hong Kong and Kowloon.

Even in normal times the streets of Hong Kong present a truly amazing spectacle of homeless and poverty-stricken humanity, but to-day they look all that they were yesterday plus the nauseating tone and atmosphere of a slave market. Cannot some of these hundreds of homeless families be accommodated in those more spacious and less congested areas in the New Territories over which the Government has control? At present the stench and awful filth of the streets of Hong Kong simply beggar description. They are an absolute disgrace to any civilized community. We will not sicken the reader by endeavouring to describe some of the completely disgusting manifestations of hygienic disorder which have confronted us in the Wanchai district—to name but one of many sections—but we think our word may be taken that if the present conditions are allowed to continue then nothing short of a miracle can save Hong Kong from a plague which most assuredly will sweep thousands into the grave.

There is, we repeat, ample space in the New Territories where, under proper supervision, camps could be made and thousands now improperly housed could be decently cared for. The Government must not permit the streets to be used as homes and the gutters as lavatories—for that is actually the state of affairs just now. And when thousands more start to stream in from Canton.....?

These are a few things the Government might pay a little attention to—that is, if the Government is not too occupied in paying attention to itself. There is still time for action, and the public has a right to be taken into the confidence of the ruling body. Now is the time.

Father of this bride is Mr. Herbert Phillips, British Consul-General at Shanghai. He came all the way from China to see his daughter marry Mr. Gerald Shillitoe at All Souls' Church, Langham-place, London, recently. Mr. Phillips has since started back to Shanghai, storm centre of the war between Japan and China.

GOVERNMENT'S REPLY TO PROFITEERING

"Generally however the situation to-day is very much better than in the 1925 crisis when a virtual stoppage of fresh supplies from Chinese ports caused serious shortage, and the present diversion of certain cargoes intended for Shanghai makes the situation fundamentally different from 1925."

"Of the staple articles of food there are at present in the Colony over 300,000 bags of rice which is at least enough for two months' normal consumption; and flour stocks are also greatly above the normal. The wholesale prices of both of these articles are reasonably low with a downward tendency."

"The outstanding feature of the meeting was, in Government's own words, 'Price regulation, whether of foodstuffs or of anything else, is a delicate matter and the only practicable alternative to the normal laws of supply and demand is purchase by Government and resale.'

"The Government is greatly averse to such an expedient unless unavoidable, and in existing circumstances sees no reason to contemplate action on such lines. Stocks being in most cases abundant and wholesale prices reasonably low the Government feels that, granted plentiful competition between retailers, the prices charged to actual consumers can hardly fail to come down to their proper levels in the near future."

"The situation will, however, continue to be carefully watched and, if there is any evidence of artificial raising of prices by a combination of retailers for this purpose, the Government will not fail to take appropriate action."

"This, in the opinion of Government, is the only sort of activity to which the term 'profiteering' can properly be applied, namely the raising of prices in an emergency either by a monopolist or by a combine having the essential character of a monopoly. Where a retailer tries to sell an article at 15 cents which can be purchased next door for 12 cents this cannot properly be described as profiteering."

In conclusion, the Chairman said that "the Government" welcomes the action recently taken by a leading firm of importers to advertise the fact that its wholesale prices have remained constant in the present emergency. If other such wholesale merchants followed this example the blame for raising prices would at once be passed on to the retailers and consumers would be able to have a proper appreciation of the situation."

ABNORMAL RISE
Arising out of Government's answer to Dr. Basto, Mr. C. Champkin asked: "Mr. Chairman, will the Government start at the top and enquire what justification, if any, exists for the abnormal rise in freight, insurance and storage charges which are the main factors in determining the retail price of imported goods?" To this question the Chairman replied that he would submit it to Government for consideration.

THOSE PRESENT
Those present at the meeting were: Mr. B. R. Todd (Chairman), Hon. Dr. D. J. Valentine (Vice-Chairman), Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Dr. R. A. de Castro Basto, Dr. B. N. Chau, Messrs. L. C. F. Bellamy, M.C., A. J. Arculli, W. N. T. Tam, B. Wong Tape, C. Champkin, Tang Shiu-kin, M.B.E., W. G. Harrison (Secretary), Im Ping-tseung (Assistant Secretary).

PRICE OF BREAD

[The Editor, "Hong Kong Daily Press"]

Sir,—In connection with the notice now appearing in your paper, and own circular letter addressed to customers earlier in the month regarding the increase in the price of Bread, I wish to make generally known the circumstances attending the decision to give effect to the advance.

Firstly, I wish to emphasize the fact that the decision to increase prices had nothing whatever to do with existing conditions in the Colony consequent upon the unfortunate circumstances in Shanghai, and in this regard I would state that the Company's Directors have had under consideration at every monthly Meeting since January last the question of raising Bread prices on account of the advance in cost of materials.

In March our quotations to large purchasers (hotels, ships, etc.) were increased, and at that time the Board agreed that the price to ordinary customers should not be raised until it was unavoidably necessary to do so.

Our Bread is manufactured from Canadian Top Patent Flour, which produces an excellent quality loaf, and the price for our supplies of this particular brand shows a considerable increase during the past twelve months. During this period my Company has, by contracting for flour supplies, gained advantages over monthly market prices, and such advantages have been passed on to our customers. Contract prices for supplies to the end of the current year make it uneconomic to produce our present quality bread without increasing the selling price, and this my Company has been reluctantly compelled to do.

In conclusion, I wish to mention that my Company is at present experimenting with lower priced Australian and American flours with a view to producing a cheaper loaf, and immediately satisfactory results are obtained we intend to market the product as "A" Quality Bread.

Thanking you for your courtesy in publishing this letter.

I am, Sir,
Yours faithfully,
A. W. BROWN,
Manager,
Lane, Crawford, Ltd.

JOE LOUIS RETAINS HIS HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Tommy Farr Puts Up A Gallant Show

New York, Aug. 31.

Joe Louis, world heavyweight boxing champion, last night defeated Tommy Farr, the British challenger for the title, on points in a fifteen-round bout at the Yankee Stadium.

In the first round, Farr, grim-faced, came out of his corner and attacked furiously from the start. He obviously intended to keep Louis moving and kept up a two-fisted attack. Louis was forced to the ropes but fought back and got in several straight lefts which lacked sting. Farr's round.

JABS EXCHANGED

In the second round, after a clinch, the boxers fought at long range and exchanged a series of left jabs. Farr was like a ballet dancer, leaping lightly away from Louis' blows. Farr's round.

The third round saw both men exchanging light blows. Louis tried a terrific right to the head and missed by a wide margin. He forced the Welshman to retreat, however, and started Farr's right eye bleeding. Louis' round.

In the fourth round Louis was doing all the forcing and worked Farr into a corner, but the Welshman got out of danger. Louis' round.

The fifth round started with both men packing lefts to the face and then the pace slackened, the men fighting at long range. Louis landed a terrific right shaking Farr, who, however, fought back savagely. Louis' round.

FARR BATTERED

Farr's eyes were bleeding at the end of the fifth round but he came out strongly in the sixth and drove the Negro across the ring, slammed away and did not stop attacking. He hurt Louis with a powerful left to the body and took the round.

In the seventh, Farr led with some snappy lefts and scored repeatedly with well-timed left swings. Louis was forced to give ground from the force of the blows. Farr's face was a terribly gory sight. Louis' round.

"TOMMY'S" ROUND

In the eighth round Louis was eager for a kill and rained a series of blows with relentless jabbing to the head. Farr retaliated with a ceaseless attack to the body and the round was fought at terrific speed. Farr flailed Louis to the ropes. Farr's round.

In the ninth, Farr tore in furiously and drove Louis to the ropes. The Negro later continued to concentrate on Farr's eye. Farr was still holding his own and sent in some stinging lefts and again drove Louis to the ropes. His right eye was puffed and after a fierce attack he once again carried all before him and again drove Louis to the ropes. Farr's round.

SENSATIONAL ROUND

The tenth opened sensationally. Farr landing rights and lefts to the face and stomach and scoring repeatedly with left hooks to the body. Louis replying with weak lefts. Louis was again driven to the ropes but fought off a possible knock-out with a hay-making right, scraping Farr's face. The Welshman concluded the round by missing the Negro with a round-house right. Louis' round.

CLEVER DUCKING

Long-range fighting was again seen in the eleventh round, and Farr, with his clever ducking and weaving, was a most difficult target. He forced Louis to the ropes and ended the round with a fusillade of lefts. Farr's round.

In the twelfth round Louis opened with a barrage of straight lefts but Farr stung the Negro with a series of left hooks to the head and drove Louis to the ropes. The Welshman had a magnificent defensive round even.

In the thirteenth round both boxers exchanged a series of lefts and then circled the ring. Farr landed heavy rights to the body while Louis retaliated with several left hooks. Towards the end Louis belaboured Farr with rights and lefts to the head and the Welshman wilted. Louis' round.

THE END

In the fourteenth round Louis chopped and jabbed and was now making the pace. He parried Farr's straight lefts. Louis' round. In the last round, the fifteenth, Farr tattooed Louis with lefts, and exchanged short jabs. Farr caught Louis on the neck and the Negro countered with a two-fisted attack to the body and plastered the Welshman heavily, driving him to the ropes. Louis' round.

FARR BREAKS FINGER

Farr has probably broken the little finger of his right hand while Louis has bruised his right hand which will have to be encased in a plastercast for at least a month; his left hand is also swollen.

Farr, who was not supposed to have a chance took everything except the decision, says the "Associated Press," and not only stunned the experts but thrilled the comparatively small crowd by the game and determined fashion in which he carried the fight to Louis.

PRESS COMMENTS

The "Daily News" says: Farr fought a cute battle, weaving and crouching and then standing up and jabbing.

The "Daily Mirror" writes: Farr won the moral victory by staying the full distance though the official victory is Joe's by decision. "He was no more the same Louis, even as early as the second round," said Max Schmeling. "Farr was a good and tough fighter. He fought a brave fight but you cannot win only on a brave fight. If he could only punch."

"New York Times": Of Farr it can truly be said he was beaten but not disgraced. Louis won but it was not a hollow victory. "Herald Tribune": Louis lost everything but the title.

LARWOOD

REFUSES

£1,000 JOB

"I Would Rather Stay With Voce"

Some time back—as you may remember—Harold Larwood, England and Notts fast bowler, refused a tempting offer to leave his county and play for Nelson, the Lancashire League club. Larwood was offered £1,000 a year by Nelson, but he refused partly because—as he put it to me—"I would rather stay with my pal, Bill Voce."

Once again, therefore, the England fast bowler who used to be a terror to the Australians has shown himself as loyal to his friend and inseparable companion as he was to his country when he bowled in the fierce heat "down under."

On one occasion in Australia, after a long morning of muscle-straining, heart-breaking work, Larwood lay all through the lunch interval in the changing room with ice packed round him so that he could be ready for more destruction in the blazing afternoon.

G. O. Allen Makes Two Points

G. O. Allen, answering the toast of Cricket in an intelligent and amusing speech at the M.C.C. 150th Anniversary Dinner, stressed the importance of producing wickets that give the bowler a fair chance and therefore lead to attractive cricket. He made, incidentally, the perfectly good point that "nearly all executives are composed of past batsmen."

The Duke of Gloucester, who was the chief guest, said that at least he has it in common with cricketers that both "preferred to hit a decent sized moving ball rather than a small stationary one."

Death Of Noted Jockey Club Official

Major George Wilmot, said to be the only Jockey Club official to hold licences as judge, handicapper, clerk of the course, and clerk of scales, died suddenly, aged 63, at Lingfield Park Club, Lingfield, from a heart attack.

He went to France in 1914 as a Lieutenant in the Royal Warwickshire Regt., but was gassed and invalided home in 1918. He was awarded the Military Cross and retired from the Army in 1919, with the rank of Major.

For 17 years he was secretary of Lingfield Park Race Club. He was the brother of Mr. Frederick William Wilmot, the owner and breeder, whose improvements during his management of the Lingfield course were largely the justification of the title "Lovely Lingfield."

FISH DEALER ROBBED

MAN COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

With the aid of guns which they used two men on July 31 carried out an armed robbery in broad daylight but only one managed to cover his tracks and is still at large. The other is in custody awaiting trial at the Criminal Sessions.

The latter Lau Yan-kwai was brought before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy yesterday charged with robbing a fish dealer, Lau Sing, of approximately $600 in currency and one gold watch with three American gold coins with a jade and gold appendage attached.

S. I. Whant said that on July 31, Lau Sing and two others went to a tea-house in Morrison Street after spending the evening in No. 14 Wing Kat Street. They left the tea-house about 4 p.m. They walked along Des Voeux Road intending to hire a car but as they approached Cleverly Street two men appeared and one of them fired a shot from a revolver. The friends of Lau Sing ran and one of the marauders fired another shot. They then covered Lau Sing with their weapons and snatched the articles mentioned in the charge from his pockets. The robbers fired another shot and escaped. Two men were injured by stray bullets; one was a friend who had accompanied Lau Sing, and the other a street coolie. (The accused was arrested on August 6 in Yau-mat on information.

After evidence was given, the accused was committed for trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

BALL BREAKS GOLFER'S LEG

Action For Reckless Play Fails

One golfer sued another at Derby Assizes alleging "reckless, careless, and negligent" play resulting in his leg being broken by a golf ball. Clement Frederick Holmes, a schoolmaster of Chatsworth-road, Chesterfield, sought damages for personal injury from George William Boocock, also of Chatsworth-road, a fellow member of the Stange Golf Club. They were playing parallel holes.

Mr. Justice Singleton said that many dangerous shots must be played on that course. Holmes must have seen the other man but took no steps for his own protection, thinking he was safe. He gave judgment for Boocock with costs.

YORKSHIRE AGAIN WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Hants Beaten By 10 Wickets

London, Aug. 30.

Yorkshire are once again county cricket champions. To-day they won the title for the 19th time, when they beat Hampshire in the season's all-decisive match by ten wickets. Thus they thwarted Middlesex on the winning post, the London team having forced the issue to the season's concluding encounters. Whether or not Middlesex win from Surrey they cannot deprive Yorkshire of the championship.

Yorkshire were always masters of Hampshire in a low-scoring match. Hampshire's first innings realised 93, Bowes taking 6 for 36 and in their second knock they compiled 185. Yorkshire replied with 191 (Heath 5 for 65) and hit off the required 88 runs without loss.—Reuter.

This is the tenth time Yorkshire have won the county cricket championship since the War. They were champions in 1919, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1935 and again this year.

Prior to the War they won the title nine times. They first became champions in 1893, met with their second success in 1896, won again in 1898, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1905, 1908 and 1921.

Nottinghamshire has the next best record since the tournament started in 1873. They have won the championship 12 times. Lancashire have won it eleven times and Surrey nine.

Last year Derbyshire won it for the first time in history, but this season they fell away badly. Yesterday they wound up their programme by losing to Kent.

OTHER RESULTS

London, Aug. 30.

Kent finished the county cricket season on a happy note when they beat Derbyshire by 100 runs.

A brilliant century by Leslie Ames, who lately has jumped into his best batting form, and some fine all-round play by George Pope were the features of an interesting game.

Kent batted first and put together 294, Ames contributing 108.

Derbyshire's response was 154. Pope scoring 88 not out. Kent were then dismissed for 125, Pope being chiefly responsible by taking 5 for 35. However, Derbyshire were not capable of making the runs, and were sent back for 165.

Essex won handsomely against Worcestershire, by an innings and ten runs. Nichols and Farnes bowled finely for the winners. Worcester made scores of 171 (Nichols 5 for 51) and 173 (Farnes 5 for 41). Essex put together 354 in their only visit to the wicket. Wilcox leading the way with a well played 142.

New Zealanders scored one of their most important victories of the tour when they overcame Sussex by an innings and 232. Incidentally they put together their highest aggregate of the season—546. They batted with fine consistency to reach this imposing total. Wallace was top scorer with 111. Donnelly hit up 83. Roberts 82 and Moloney 75.

Sussex batting was terribly in the doldrums. Their first innings realised 151 and in their second attempt they were sent back for 163. James Langridge alone facing the attack with any confidence to score 91 not out.—Reuter.

U.S. TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL

Won By Von Cramm And Henkel.

Brooklyn, Aug. 30.

For the first time since they have met in various national and international tennis tournaments, G. von Cramm and H. Henkel, the German Davis Cup pair, to-day beat Donald Budge and Gene Mako, America's leading combination, in the final of the United States national doubles championship.

The Germans won in three straight sets, the scores being 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

While the Americans appeared to be forced off their game by the assertive methods of the opposition, the inability of Mako to hold his service was a big factor in the result, as it gave the Germans a break-through in each of the three sets. Altogether Mako dropped four out of eight services.

Miss Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Fabryan easily won the women's doubles title, beating Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Carolin Babcock 7-5, 6-4. The winners held the upper-hand throughout, and the holders lost their final chance of snatching victory when they failed to take Miss Marble's service at four-all in the second set, after four deuce points had been called.—Reuter.

THIAM TET FOR HONG KONG

Lim Thiam Tet is to be congratulated for winning the Perak junior tennis title for the third year in succession. His leading rival was S. Obata, the Selangor junior champion, whom he defeated comfortably in the final in straight sets.

Thiam Tet, who is 19, will be leaving shortly for Hong Kong.

An old boy of St. Michael's Institution, Thiam Tet has passed his Senior Cambridge and plans to enter St. Joseph's College, Hong Kong, preparatory to joining the University.

This will probably mean that Thiam Tet will not be able to defend his title next year—the championships are open to all under 21—unless, of course, if he returns to Ipoh for his holiday and the championships are run then.

BEN FOORD RETURNS

To Start New Come- Back Campaign

Ben Foord, full of good resolutions, and fresh ambition, is back again in London from the United States to study the state of the big fight market.

In the holiday month of August the market is usually in a state of slump—and that's just how it is now, owing to the departure of Tommy Farr to pastures new. Foord, however, is hopeful of getting started on a new comeback campaign and is longing for the opening of London's winter seas, which starts in September, usually in a heat wave.

The big South African's right hand, injured against Max Baer, is well again, and by getting down to hard training, he feels he can climb back to the championship pedestal. Just how he proposes to start is the problem which puzzles both Foord and the promoters. Whom can he meet?

Eddie Phillips may be suitable, especially as Phillips is now a declared heavyweight, and is himself on the title trail.

WORLD TABLE-TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Next year's world table-tennis championships will be held in London, the finals taking place at the Empire Pool, Wembley, on January 29. The opening rounds will be held at the Royal Albert Hall, beginning on Monday, January 24.

It is expected that 20 nations will take part and all the best players have been invited. United States are holders of both team trophies, the Swaythling Cup for men and Marcel Corbillion Cup for women.

The men's singles title is held by A. Bergmann, of Austria, but the women's title is vacant.

HARRY VARDON'S £11,185

Harry Vardon, the famous golfer, of Totteridge-lane, Whetstone, who died on March 20, aged 66, left £11,185.

He bequeathed some of his medals and trophies to various people and the will added: "I should like to know that my other prizes will be looked after and not given away any old way."

LEICESTER'S BRILLIANT ACHIEVEMENT

Home Football Results

London, Aug. 30.

In a heavy league football programme to-day, everything else was overshadowed by the brilliant achievement of Leicester, newly promoted club to the first division, who, playing on their own ground, beat Sunderland the cup-holders by four clear goals.

Blackpool, who accompanied Leicester from the second division to the first division this season, played at home to Bolton and earned a two-all draw.

Spurs were in goal-scoring mood at White Hart Lane where they met Burnley and found the net four times, without reply. West Ham also won, and Queen's Park Rangers astonished by visiting the Dell and beating Millwall 4-1. The third division match between Mansfield and Walsall was abandoned after 35 minutes owing to a terrific thunderstorm which swept the ground.

The day's results as cabled by Reuter, were as follows:—

ELEPHANTIASIS IN MALAYA

Research Work In Riverine Areas

Dr. Poynton and Mr. Hodgkin, of the Institute of Medical Research, Kuala Lumpur, are at present in Sabak Bernam working in connection with the incidence of 'Elephantiasis'.

This disease, which is said to be caused by the bite of a particular kind of mosquito, is common along the Bernam River. It is the cause of the familiar 'elephant leg' seen in several of the labourers working in the area involved.

The Malayan Medical authorities are doing their best to stamp out elephantiasis. In July 1936 Dr. J. C. Buckley, on the Department of Helminthology at the London School of Tropical Medicine, toured the Bernam riverine area and collected some 40 specimens of blood from infected persons. In October of the same year another visit was made by the Malayan medical authorities and some 125 specimens were collected. The medical people have to work against odds. Though during the first visit some 400 turned out for inspection only 40 of them acceded to the request for operation. One of the infected persons has been taken to the headquarters of I. M. R. for experimental purposes.

It is believed that proper nutrition would strengthen the populace so as to be in a better position to resist the disease. Experiments in feeding the people in the infected area on a balanced diet, to supply what vitamins are lacking, have also been carried out.

ENDEMIC CENTRES

The investigation is at present concentrated on the Bernam River area, on the boundary between Perak and Selangor, where a village and an estate have for some time been known to be endemic centres.

The disease is endemic in various parts of Malaya in coastal and riverine areas, of which the most important area, in addition to Sabak Bernam, estates near Teluk Anson, the lower reaches of the Perak River, along the coast of Province Wellesley on the coast near Kuantan, the Pahang River and Kedah coastal areas.

At present the prevention and treatment of elephantiasis leave much to be desired, but there is the prospect that with investigation and experimental work valuable results may be achieved.

In other parts of the world, India, Africa, and the West Indies, the disease has proved a scourge that has seriously affected labour.

MALARIA IN MALAYA

Varying Methods Of Attack

The minutes of a recent meeting of the Malaria Advisory Board, F.M.S., give interesting details of the work of the Board in its fight against the scourge.

Regarding the investigation of anophelines on the Selangor coast. It is stated that the investigations had, in February, been in progress for two years; that at Jeram was stopped as it appeared to have served its purpose, while the trap at Rantau Panjang was moved into the centre of the kampong, one mile from the road, the road. During the two years, out of 2,880 A. barbrostris dissected from Jeram, only 18 were found to be infected, and 2 out of 546 A. sundaleus and one out of 512 A. umbrosus. At Rantau Panjang, infections were even fewer; two out of 485 A. barbrostris and one out of 2,753 A. sundaleus. From the trap at Sijangkang (8th mile Klang-Banting Road) 428 A. umbrosus have been dissected during the nine months that it has been in operation, and three have been found infected.

The Chairman informed the Board that in the experimental ravine Tephrosia had grown well but had not given a sufficiently dense shade. Lantana had also grown fairly well, and during his absence on leave a creeper, Mikania, had been planted and was growing over the Lantana, but was not then sufficiently well grown for conclusions to be drawn as to its usefulness.

ANTI-MALARIAL OILS

The experimental oiling mixture has now been in use for short periods in various parts of the country, sufficiently long for any opinion as to its efficiency to be formed. The Entomologist informed the Board that he had received a letter from the Health Officer, Railways, giving as the opinion of the Inspectors who have used the oil that: (1) it spreads more rapidly than the old oil; (2) its immediate larvicidal powers are greater, but do not last so long; (3) it does not cling to the soil and vegetation as well as the old oil; and (4) it is more irritating to the skin.

A member of the Board has found the new mixture of special service on an estate where the drains have sides of clay containing a large proportion of kaolinite; while the old mixture rolled straight off the sides, the new mixture clings to them. He attributes this to the lower surface tension.

PROPAGANDA WORK

The sub-committee appointed at the last meeting, and including the Chief Inspector of English Schools, met and drafted a poster suitable for issue in Malay, Chinese and Tamil. They considered that another was also desirable in order to give simply the distinction between Anopheles and Culex. It was considered important that they should have a pictorial appeal. It was also suggested that a prize should be offered to school children in English Schools for the best poster suitable for exhibition in such schools. The Board agreed to the purchase of two prizes.
